

Keith: Just a few thoughts:

(I am cooking dinner, bathing Sofia and trying to take care of a few things)

Remember:

You are an authorized Agent listed for Louisiana Tennessee Connections, Inc. You are listed as President and Secretary. You father has "verbally" authorized and approved you to "handle" the business. He told you last year the business is yours. You have also stated to him that you opened an account in his name because of your credit – which he approved.

Take control of yourself and your emotions. Think about your actions and decisions. Don't make quick, irrational, desperate decisions everytime he threatens you or you run out of money. As usual, your father is trying to control and manipulate your mind and emotions. He is instilling fear and lack of control in you. He does this with everyone. He is angry and is threatening you, and me. He knows he has done wrong. You need to have faith and keep positive thoughts. If you are speaking the truth, others will know. I believe the truth will come out in either case. I do not wish your father any harm, but he needs to realize that this evil cycle needs to stop. He cannot continue to treat people the way he does. He treats his animals better than humans. It upsets everyone involved and has caused much distress emotionally and mentally on everyone – especially his daughters. He needs to remember, if he claims to be a Christian man, he should set those examples rather than display the opposite meaning of the Word.

I am praying and meditating. Good things are coming.

I am feeling strong spiritually.
